

HEAVEN MALONE

"I may just come crash
your DJ booth"
- Courtney Love

BIO

"Rock music has always had a contentious relationship with club land, but these days, those barriers are all but non-existent. In Chicago, Heaven Malone has been a great contributor to breaking down the divide."

- Time Out Chicago

Moving to Chicago from New Orleans, Heaven Malone quickly became immersed in Chicago's underground industrial and electro music scene.

First throwing parties with the likes of Ministry and My Life With The Thrill Kill Kult and then DJing events with members of Echo & The Bunnymen, The Smiths, Bauhaus, and other 80s favs. As well as contemporary acts like LCD Soundsystem, Justice, and Steve Aoki.

Notably, Malone DJed and produced "Bowie Ball", the official U.S. launch party for the multi-media fashion exhibition of acclaimed glam rocker, David Bowie.

Malone also creative directed & produced Room 237: The Shining Pop-Up, featured in Esquire and trended in international press, Rhiannon: The Fleetwood Mac Pop-Up featured in VICE, as well as DJed the infamous Stranger Things Pop-Up, The Upside Down.

Each year, Heaven Malone returns to Cannes, France to DJ multiple dates along the French Riviera for the Cannes International Festival of Creativity.
